BOTNEY'S OPINIONS.

Our Senator Gives His Views on Silver and the Indians.

Organization Before their Work After their Holiday.

Morgan's Measure for Silver—A Batch of Nominees.

Bowen Interviewed.

JANUARY 6.—United States Senator Thomas M. Bowen was at the Windsor yesterday on his way to Washington, and is now en route with a representative of the Democratic party upon the silver and currency questions. He said: "The recent great speech of Senator Beck of Kentucky was an event that marked an epoch in American history. The argument in that speech could not be met by any one else but a silver dealer. It crystallized the forces of the friends of silver more so than into a unit for its continued coinage. In fact, there were but two Democratic senators who favored the financial policy of the administration, one of whom was McPherson of New Jersey, who also many Republicans favored the coinage of silver dollars and silver bars.

By Senator Bowen, to repeals the civil service reform act.

By Senator Carter, to provide for compulsory education of Indian children. Authorizes the secretary of interior to take Indian children between the ages of eight and 18 who belong to tribes receiving annuities from the United States and place them in government schools for education of the Indians to be kept there for five years. This is not to apply however to the five civilized tribes, nor to the Osage Indians, of Indian territory. The secretary is authorized to withdraw lands from Indians who refuse to comply with these provisions. All such schools are to be manual labor schools, and to include the teaching of agriculture and stock raising to boys and house work to girls.

By Senator Atkinson, to set apart a certain tract of land lying near the junction of the Little Colorado river with the Colorado River of the West Arkansas as a public park.

By Senator Carter, giving the state of Colorado the right to select schools in lieu of the 18th and 20th sections, where such sections are found, to be within Indian reservations.

By Senator Bowen, to establish a national university in the District of Columbia.

The bill introduced by Senator Blair to provide for the erection of a monument in the city of President Lincoln and Gen. Grant proves that they shall be similar to the Washington monument and cost $100,000 each. None but American citizens are to be employed on this work.

The manager was instructed to notify Mr. Lee that his services were no longer needed by the city.

Mr. Edwards brought up the matter of the laying of dog ditches, and ascertained whether it was necessary to lay the stone around the trees or up to them.

He certifies that the ordinance required that the walks should be not less than 12 feet or more than 15 feet in width.

The doctor argued that it was unnecessary expense on those who choose to lay walks to make them beyond 10 feet in width.

Colonel Skinner stated that a hough he voted for the sidewalk ordinance, he did not think it was entirely correct and he was in favor of an ordinance that would complete the laying of flag or concrete pavement within the city limits.

Cly Attorney Cook gave as his opinion that there could be no authority or authority to change, unless the ordinance was amended.

On the motion of Mr. Hughes, the committee on the revision of the ordinances was instructed to take under consideration the amendment of the sidewalk ordinance and submit a report at the next meeting of the council.

Mr. Hughes suggested that the same committee look into some defects that had been discovered in the pol tax ordinance.

The water works committee with Alderman Lambbaugh as chairman reported in favor of the adoption of the iron cast iron boxes and recommended that the city attorney be instructed to draw up an ordinance to that effect. The report was accepted. Council then adjourned.

"The Trovatore."

The Milan Grand Opera company will produce Verdi's beautiful opera "Trovatore" at the opera house next Saturday evening. The Denver Times in speaking of their first performance in that city says:

A sound snow storm has no influence over the enthusiasm of admiring of grand opera; as, indeed, the most popular work of the oldest living composer was heard from the lips of the Milan opera company in a manner which created an incessant ripple of applause. "Trovatore" is not so classic that it cannot create a glow of feeling in the hearts of the prosaic. A German opera is making inroads, and successive ones into the mind of the average opera, such words as "Trovatore" will never be banished or fail in eliciting the warmest applause for beautiful plot and magnificent music as magnificence, both and Niessen have been here, but their appearances were as that of song birds who in the light to warmer climes rest a moment to warble a note or two and then pass on.

The Milan Opera company comes with a serious object, and by bringing its ornate last evening a score of hundreds who had intended to winter in the east that it is to increase strength of their organization they could not be surprised.

Laure, after sure, was drawn impulsive, yet, as it is, the drama, and Signor G. M. Young, the soprano and tenor, they were the recipients of the most prolonged applause. Narrowing the list still further, it must be said that Niessen was the favorite, though, yet by sheer force of the will, the audience, like the motion to the eager of the orchestra for a repetition of his accompaniment. The strain on Niessen was extreme, but in the last and fourth acts his singing was inimitable and perfectly enunciative notes vibrated in such a manner as no listeners had rarely if ever heard, even from tenor before.
